

THE ELECTION.

The interest of Delawareans in the elections on Tuesday was centered on the results in New York and Maryland. The one being a contest for better government in the combined cities of New York and Brooklyn with patronage second only to that of the President of the United States; the other being a fight against the continued obssion of Senator Gorman. The results in Ohio, Pennsylvania and other states came in for a share of the interest.

MARYLAND.

Senator Gorman has met his Waterloo; he must step down and out. For three elections the Republicans aided by the Independent Democratic press have carried the State, and it has been done chiefly because of opposition to the methods of the astute and wily senator. Democrats have defeated him because he in their opinion set himself up as a dictator. The contest has been hard fought and the result was close. Philip R. Goldsborough, R., was elected comptroller by 7810 majority; and Gen. Allen Katherford, R., was elected clerk 6,876 by majority loss. These were the only State officials voted for. The Legislature will stand on joint ballot 67 R and 50 D. The Senate will have 18 R and 8 D; the House will have 49 R, 42 D. The Legislature will elect a Republican to succeed Mr. Gorman in the U. S. Senate.

Three judges were elected for the second Judicial District, all Democrats. They are James Alfred Pearce, Chief Judge; Frederick Stump and Wm. R. Martin, Associate Judges. In Cecil County the Democrats elected their entire ticket, Austin L. Crothers for the State Senate leading with about 500 majority. The successful candidates are:—

For Clerk of the Circuit Court, John G. Williams; for Register of Wills, Reuben E. Jamar; for State Senator, Austin L. Crothers; for the House of Delegates, John H. Wirt, Walter D. Thompson, and John J. Jones; for County Commissioners—Long Term, Joseph B. Ewing; Short Term, William T. Patton; for County Treasurer, William T. Fryer; for Sheriff, J. Ross Conolly; for Surveyor, Powell F. Johns. In Kent County the entire Democratic ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 65 to 155. Enoch G. Clark and George E. Noland were elected to the Legislature. The Democrats elected their ticket in Queen Anne's. In Caroline a part of each ticket was elected. Robert N. Messick, R., was elected to the Senate, and Charles H. Todd, R., and Geo. T. Redden, D., were elected members of House. Talbot County also divided her vote. J. Frank Turner was elected by 13 to the Senate; Levin H. Tull, R., has 2 majority and Wm. C. Dudley, D., 4 majority for the House. The other is a tie. [This was the report up to the official Court which shows the Republicans elect in Talbot county the Senator and three Representatives. The rest of the ticket is Democratic.]

Baltimore City went Republican by 8000 majority electing Wm. T. Malster Mayor. This is a better wind to Rain and a grand victory for the Baltimore Sun and other independent papers.

NEW YORK.

Tammany wins in Greater New York and Judge Van Wyck becomes the first mayor of the great city with millions of dollars of patronage. He received 298,000 votes, having 80,000 plurality over Seth Low, the next highest candidate. Mr. Low received 148,000 votes and Gen. Tracy, the Republican nominee, 102,000. The combined vote of Low and Tracy, both Republicans, was 249,000 or 21,000 more than Boss Crocker's man received. By union the Tammany Democrats won everything; by division the Reformers and Republicans lost all. Last year McKinley carried the State of New York by 263,000 plurality; on Tuesday Boss Platt's nominee for Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals was defeated by 60,000. The New York Tribune of Thursday said: "Republican headquarters, State and county, were deserted yesterday. Senator Platt is reported to have remarked that the party was beaten by the masculinity of its enemies and the treachery of its alleged friends. Quigg added 'Me too.' Quigg looked lonesome and sad yesterday, and aggrieved. He was particularly angry because some person with no reverence for greatness and no pity for misery pinned on the door of the County Committee rooms a brief quotation from Casabianca which was: 'And the boy, oh! where was he?' Mr. Quigg had nothing more to say."

PENNSYLVANIA.

The Republican ticket was elected in the Keystone State by about 150,000 majority but the machine politicians are not happy. Swallow, the "fighting parson" and Prohibition and Independent Republican candidate for State Treasurer received about 175,000 votes, carrying seven or eight counties. This is looked upon as notice to Boss Quay that he must not press the people too hard or they will set him down and out.

OHIO.

President McKinley went home to vote and the Buckeye State re-elected Gov. Bushnell, R., by 25,000 majority. The fight against Senator Hanna has been very bitter but the Republicans have a majority of five in the Legislature over the Democrats and Fusionists combined. Hanna will probably be returned to the U. S. Senate.

NEW JERSEY.

The Republicans of New Jersey will have the Legislature by 81 on joint ballot. There was no State ticket.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Gov. Wolcott and the entire Republican ticket have been elected by 86,000 plurality. The vote was light.

IOWA.

As usual Iowa has gone Republican. Shaw has been elected Governor by about 25,000 plurality, and the Republican control the Legislature.

VIRGINIA.

In the Old Dominion everybody voted the Democratic ticket if the returns are any indication of the vote. The Democrats elected a Governor and other State Officials by 60,000 majority.

KENTUCKY.

Kentucky goes back to Democracy by 25,000 majority. They control the Legislature also. The contest there has been very bitter. Six men were shot down in political quarrels the night before the election.

KANSAS.

There was no State ticket in Kansas but the Republicans have carried a majority of the towns.

NEBRASKA.

The Democrats and Fusionists have again carried Nebraska.

COLORADO.

The result in Colorado is still in doubt.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

The Republicans elected six judges and the Fusionists two—a victory for the Republicans and a surprise to their opponents.

THEIR PRIMARIES.

"Although this (Synrna) is supposed to be a hotbed of Addicksism very little interest was taken and only 48 votes polled. This is certainly a strong contrast to the claims made by the Union Republican leaders that the Union Republican voters of the hundred were very bitter in their denunciation of the way the Regulars were recognized by the National administration and if opportunity were given them the protest would be very emphatic."—Clayton Call.

Here is an unprejudiced report and it fairly illustrates the situation. It proves conclusively that it is the Addicks leaders, many of them in the paydicks leaders, who have made all the fuss about the necessity for a convention, &c. The people are not stirred up over the matter, not even in Synrna, the "hotbed of Addicksism," as but 48 votes at the primary shows. In many places where the Addicks vote was quite large last fall there was not enough interest to risk a popular vote. It seems from reports that in more than half the districts there were no elections, merely a caucus of a few of the leaders where they constituted themselves delegates to attend the Convention. Should a Convention thus constituted represent the Republicans of Delaware? It does not even represent the vote cast by the Union Republicans last fall; in fact it is a plain denial by the voters of the claim of the Addicks leaders that a convention should be held. It is a slap in the face of the men whose only apparent object is to stir up strife, to further widen the breach in the Republican Party. Republicans should study the action of the Convention as from the standpoint of their primary election, since in a great measure it is a convention of self-appointed delegates rather than representatives of their party voters or of the people.

In some places the old leaders have been dropped from the delegate lists. Mr. Addicks and his man Kittenger both being left off, presumably to give "tone" to the Convention, but the Addicks contingent have their hands on the machine and they propose to run it. They have run it to the defeat of the Republican Party so far and the purpose of this Convention is to keep it up. There are Republicans who are acting with them who do not view the matter in this light, conscientious Republicans, but we believe they will see matters differently when the mist clears away.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

Republicans of the whole country regret the success of the Tammany Tiger in Greater New York on Tuesday, and not only do Republicans regret it but hundreds of thousands of Democrats, some of them formerly Delaware Democrats, voted for Low on Tuesday against Bossism and misrule. The machines, however, for there is but little doubt that Boss Platt aided Boss Crocker, won. They were united. The Reformers were divided and especially were Republicans divided and they lost. Everybody expects the city to suffer because of it, to suffer in heavy expenses and in radical misgovernment. It was within the power of the reformers to have controlled the city but in disagreement they threw away their opportunity.

Here is a lesson for Delaware Republicans. Will it be heeded? Presumably not. They had a similar lesson last fall when the combined vote for Messrs. Higgins and Hoffecker was greater than the vote for Governor Tunnell. There was the opportunity of a victory, a victory as we have believed for reform in the administration of State and county affairs. That opportunity was thrown away because of the influence of one man, a man whose declaration to the whole country has been, "I will win or I will sink the Republican Party." Has he given up? Not at all. He has been persuaded evidently to use other tactics than the open and defiant methods which have brought only defeat and disaster to the party, but the consciences of too many Republicans prevent their acceptance of Addicksism in any form, and to hold to him means but future defeat. Will not Republicans who are not interested in the success of Addicks or of any other man, who hold party above individuals, will not they come to the front and demand that the lesson of last fall, the lesson of Tuesday in New York, shall be heeded? Conventions of self-constituted delegates cannot avail anything—nothing but further separation. Will not Republicans individually heed the warning? Parties are made up of individuals and it is the strong individual convictions which tell. Let the object lesson in New York prove profitable to Delaware Republicans.

Mr. A. B. Roe, a prominent citizen of Greensboro, Md., died Thursday, October 28th, after a lingering illness. He was twice elected to the General Assembly of Maryland and once to the State Senate. The Republicans of Caroline county elect their entire ticket except Mr. Seward for Representative and Mr. Thomas Green for County Treasurer.

PARTISAN PREJUDICE.

How far partisan prejudice has gone in Kent county is told in a communication on our first page, clipped from the Dover "Delawarean." The article is written by a Democrat whose finer sense of the amenities of life has been touched. "Farmers" is evidently a gentleman first and a party man second, and he has been to feel the disconcerting which he has met because of the feeling towards the party of which he is a member. Presumably he does not sustain the action of his party associates in their extreme unfairness but party feeling is so high that in society and in business he has been made to feel it. This is a great pity. It is almost if not quite as great a pity as the partisan acts which created the feeling. There is danger to popular government when neighbors are discourteous towards each other socially and in business relations because of a difference of political faith. Such things should not be; nor should elections be stolen by force nor legal technicalities. There is danger in both. If the real offenders, the men who plan and execute political thefts, were ostracized as criminals they are whether convicted or unconvicted there would be no occasion for complaints from honest men such as "Farmer" evidently is. Read what he says and consider the situation and where it may lead.

A COLUMN of new ads, coming in at the last moment crowds out of this issue a very excellent report of the Christian Endeavor Convention at Wilmington, also a full and interesting report of the Sunday School Convention at Delaware City on Thursday which should not suffer from the blue pencil of the editor's so much dreaded by amateur reporters, and other news items. These will appear next week better appreciated for being in full rather than to be cut down. We have also in type the two column article on the history of representation in the Republican Party which appeared in the "Morning News" of Thursday, but have not space for it. It will be given next week along with the resolutions adopted by the Union Republicans at Dover on Thursday. We are sorry to omit items of news and articles of interest but have the right of way—at least for a fair extent.

We have neither time nor space this week for a report or review of the Union Republican Convention at Dover on Thursday. It will be considered next week. There were Republicans in that Convention whose political opinions we have hitherto respected. We still have respect for them though we differ in the methods best fitted to carry the Republican Party in Delaware to victory. There were men in that Convention whose political words and works we have no respect since their public acts in our opinion have forfeited even the charitable views of their fellow citizens. It is the association of the two with one object—the elevation of Addicksism—that must continue to defeat Delaware Republicanism so long as such conventions as the one of Thursday are held.

An unknown party ran into his carriage tearing off a wheel and his horse ran away. The young lady escaped with a few bruises.

WANAMAKER'S.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Nov. 1, 1897.

465 Styles of Dollar Dress Goods.

A good many buyers of goods believe that dress goods makers frequently sell their dollar line of goods at a loss—for effect. Certain it is that the dress goods here this season at a dollar a yard are marvels of textile value. So popular has the price become that we have widened the line to almost bewildering variety—and all in all, Wanamaker Dollar Dress Goods did fair to win new fame for this store from Maine to California and down in Dixie, too.

Viewed by current prices, two-thirds of the dollar goods here are being sold at a loss. Only careful and fearless contracting, far back, makes today's values possible.

Four hundred and sixty-five styles of dress goods at One Dollar are on show. Here is a list of them—

BLANCHE TAYLOR MESSICK.

"Asleep in Jesus peacefully rest,
Whom waking is supremely blest!
No fear, no woe, shall dim that hour
That manifests the Father's power."
At 2 o'clock on Sunday, Oct. 31st, Blanche, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Messick, "fell asleep" in the peaceful quiet of the early hours of the Sabbath, after so much of patient suffering and hopeful watching. Since last week, when she was taken sick, part of the time seriously ill, until the spirit of hopefulness yielded to bodily weakness. She was born May 28th, 1883.

Funeral services were held at the home of her parents on West Main street on Tuesday afternoon. Many friends gathered as a mark of respect to the sweet young life ended so soon and to show the deep sympathy felt for the parents and brothers. Blanche's young school friends were all there and the casket was literally covered with flowers. The choir sang so sweetly "Asleep in Jesus," "Home Sweet Home," a favorite often sung by Blanche; and "Some time we'll know." Rev. P. P. Moore, spoke feelingly and helpfully words of consolation, and her pastor, Rev. I. L. Wood, referred most tenderly to her Christian life and consistent testimony.

There were present from a distance Mrs. Margaret Taylor, Mr. Wm. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Potts, Miss Maggie and Attia Taylor, Miss Purnell, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Knott, Mrs. Corvan and daughter, Mrs. Maxwell, Mr. W. D. Busby, Mr. David S. Clark. Interment in Forest Cemetery.
